

Linda Zager Executive Director

Linda Zager is the Executive Director at The Back Office Cooperative (BOC), and a Principal Consultant at Expense Reduction Analysts (ERA). Linda has 40 years of corporate and small business experience.

Over the span Linda's career, responsibilities included Finance, Sales, Business Management, Expense Management Consulting and Executive Leadership. Ms. Zager joined ERA in 2008 and through a partnership agreement became the Executive Director at BOC in 2014. Linda is passionate about the non-profit community and quickly became an instrumental leader in how to best assist organizations to better manage administrative expenses and drive more money to the missions.

Linda works with executives and stakeholders in the non-profit sector, to understand their strategies, challenges, priorities, and determine how BOC and ERA can reduce administrative costs and improve cash flow, without giving up what is needed to achieve the mission of the organization.

Ms. Zager has a B.S. in Business Administration from Rutgers University in New Brunswick, N.J. and an MBA in Finance from Seton Hall University in South Orange, N.J.
